Redmen Dump Western Must Overcome Queen's

Racing The Subway

This member of the track team was last seen hurdling through Molson Stadium in an easterly direction. At the time of his disappearance he was wearing a white suit with short pants and black stripped shoes. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of this fellow is asked to call the Daily Sports Desk.

by BOB COHEN

Saturday afternoon, in perfect football weather, the McGill Redmen clipped the University of Western Ontario Mustangs 20-7 before a sub-capacity crowd at Western's J. W. Little Memorial stadium. The victory kept the Redmen's title hopes alive despite Queens' 58-6 slaughtering of a crippled Toronto Varsity squad.

The Red and White can force a playoff if they beat Queen's in Montreal next week. League rules require showdown if the second place team beats the first place club during the regular schedule.

MCGILL TAKES LEAD

The game was only six minutes old when McGill racked up its first points of the afternoon. From the opening kickoff, quarterback Tom Skypeck guided the Redmen down to Western's 25 yard line. Keeping on the ground, the Red and White covered 52 yards in eight plays.

Harry Haukkala's field goal attempt was blocked by 6'6" end Richard Suderman but the Redmen got the ball back immediately when Leo Konyk alertly picked up a stray pitchout on Western's first play from scrimmage.

With the Ball on the Mustang 24, John McLernon chalked up a smart 12 yard gain on a Skypeck pass. The McGill touchdown threat fizzled right there. Big Suderman knocked a pass down at the line of scrimmage and another arial, with Bob Milligan written all over it, went astray.

The Redmen had to settle for three points as reliable Harry Haukkala came through once again. With a tough angle to contend with, Haukkala connected from the 20. He booted another one of 25 yards a few minutes later.

THE PATTERN

This was the way of things for the rest of the half. The Redmen were in touchdown range three times during the first 30 minutes. They had a lot of difficulty finishing off their drives. They left the field at half time ahead, 8-0. The score however didn't indicate that they were inside the Mustang 25 no less than three times. (The third occasion was set up by defensive end Larry Sheehan. Sheehan pounced on a Whit Tucker fumble at the Mustang 24.)

Western didn't give the hometown fans much to cheer about in the first 30 minutes. They held the ball for more than 3 plays only twice. Their biggest threat came just before the gun.

Starting at their own 35, the Mustangs marched to the McGill 17 in four plays. Quarterback Ken Rysdale picked up his own fumble and carried it 30 yards before he was brought down. On the next

Seminar At SGWU Ends With Banquet

by ROLDANO DALLA-ROSA

Sir George Williams University's seminar on the Causes of War ended last Saturday night with a banquet given in honour of the delegates by the provincial government.

The guest speaker at the banquet, His Excellency Dr. Mario Amedeo, President of the first Political Committee and Argentine Ambassador to the United Nations, said the present world tension was being caused by several political factors. These factors, he said, were the arms race, the Berlin problem, subversive ideological aggression, and the colonial question.

ARMS RACE

Speaking of the arms race, the Ambassador said that the "main substantial difference that separates the West and the East in the banning of armament," was that one side wishes real control and that the other side wishes to "control himself". Dr. Amedeo went on to say that the amount of radioactivity in the atmosphere today is greater than it has ever been before and that appeals by the United Nations for a moratorium on nuclear tests have been ignored by the Soviet Union.

"The race for armament is the result of a state of mistrust and fear," said the Ambassador. "It is difficult for the United Nations to create a climate of trust, where there is mistrust and no fear, where there is fear."

He went on to say "The great task of the U.N., even more than its political task, will be to help the emerging nations so that the assistance and technical help offered to them will not have a political tinge."

In conclusion, Dr. Amedeo said "We, who have a common patrimony of culture should join together in a defence of those ideals which are common to all of us. We must make a common cause of this fight — not only for our material welfare but for that which has been given to us by God."

The Russian delegation, which was to have been present at the seminar, was unable to come. According to a telegram sent by the Russians to the organizers of the Seminar, visas for entry into Canada had been "delayed and denied by the Canadian immigration authorities". As of yet, this has not been confirmed by the Department of Immigration.

SEC Fines Five Offending Students

by TOM TAUSKY

Five McGill students were fined a total of $20 for offences against "good morals and gentlemanly conduct" at last week's meeting of the Students' Executive Council.

The students were accused of such offenses as throwing an orange at a cheerleader, exploding fire-crackers and throwing an "article" (in this case, a Dixie cup) at a member of the Scarlet Key during football games.

"This is the first time any Council has attempted disciplinary action on an organized basis", Robert Carswell, Students' Society President, said in introducing the five cases.

The accused were charged under Article Six, Section Six of the Students' Society Constitution.

SECTION

The relevant section reads: "The Students' Executive Council shall have the right to summon, hear and discipline any member of the Students' Society for an offense against the rules and regulations of the University or of the Students' Society."

"Any person so summoned shall be confronted by persons bearing witness against him and shall have the right to call witnesses on his behalf."

"The Students' Executive Council shall be empowered by a vote of not less than a majority of its members to impose the penalty of debarment from the Students' Union for the remainder of the session in which the offence occurred, or to impose a fine of $25.00. All disciplinary actions taken by the Students' Executive Council shall be reported to the Senate".

The specific charge and constitutional authority were read to each of the accused. Evidence relating to facts was then given by the member of the Scarlet Key bringing the charge, after which the student made his reply.

SECOND STATEMENTS

If there was any conflict, the two parties each made second statements. Questions were then asked by SEC members. Determination of guilt and assessment of penalty were then made in the absence of the accused.

The first student to be tried was charged with throwing an orange on the field near a cheerleader at the Western game. He submitted depositions of six witnesses stating that the orange was thrown into the stands, nowhere near the field.

The Council decided to send a letter of reprimand to the student.

The Chairman of the Engineering Undergraduate Society Red and White Committee was the next accused. His offence: throwing fire-crackers.

RAISE SPIRIT

He said he did not know this was illegal and had in fact purchased the noise-makers with EUS funds "to raise spirit at the games".

The noise-makers were not fire-crackers but "cherry bombs" and he timed them so as to explode 40 feet along the stands, he added.

Council imposed a fine of $10. A letter was directed to be sent castigating him and noting the danger of this practice.

Throwing a beer can into unoccupied bleachers resulted in a letter of reprimand for another student.

An Arts student charged with interfering with a member of the Scarlet Key in front of the Union after the Toronto game was fined $5.

At the time, students were rocking a bus. Members of the Key ordered the students to move off Sherbrooke St. The accused shouted "Let's stay on the road".

MASTERS STUDENT

A Masters' candidate recently arrived from England was fined $5 for throwing a paper cup.

"I come from an institution where we never heard of Students' Executive Councils or honour societies; I find it rather laughable that I was summoned when people were throwing bottles and tearing down goalposts".

He admitted he "wasn't particularly civil" to the Key member but said "he was a most unpleasant character — not the kind of person I would respect. I had no idea he had the authority to demand my student's card".

"You didn't think those people with red and white uniforms on had any connection with authority?" a Council member asked.

DISCUSSION

Considerable discussion arose over the fact that there are no specific regulations prohibiting the specific offences for which the five students were charged.

"How can we find someone guilty of throwing an orange and how can we tolerate toilet paper?" Arts and Science Representative Edward Aronoff asked.

"We will determine whether we think these actions are against public order and against all standards of gentlemanly conduct. Punishment for breaches of public order and good morals is a valid legal concept" President Carswell said.

Council concluded by passing a resolution directing that a letter be sent to the president of the Scarlet Key, thanking the members of the Key for maintaining order under difficult circumstances.

NOVEMBER 6, 1961

Faceless Faces

ANNOUNCEMENT THAT the annual Fall edition of the Changing of the Guard will culminate November 20 inspires us to a long overdue look at student government at McGill.

In case you didn't know the Students' Executive Council consists of 18 members, 12 of whom are replaced in the Autumn, six in the Spring and the odd individual as indicated. On these individuals rests the responsibility of controlling one of the most liberal systems of student self-government in North America.

Have you ever met a live SEC representative? Do you know even the name of your own faculty rep? Concentrating, we were able to name all of this year's Council, but less than half of those who served a year ago.

Last Thursday morning Council approved total budgetary expenditures in excess of $150,000. For all you know, it might have voted to turn the entire amount over to the Soviet Embassy and what is more, there is nothing you could do to prevent it, supposing you did find out about it from, for example, the Daily.

It is highly likely that the twelve new wheels who will emerge from the dismal process of acclamation, pen-sketching and apathetic election will be personable, intelligent and conscientious. They will have good records of service to the student body. They will be determined to carry on their duties in the finest traditions of McGill.

It is even more frighteningly probable that twelve months hence they will in turn be replaced by another contingent of faceless caretakers ready to wear themselves out in the vacuum of student interest and awareness.

It is not our aim to suggest that the outgoing Councillors have been a particularly bad lot. Indeed, on the rare occasions when some new situation arose to require the exercise of independent judgement, the Council has acquired itself well.

Rather, we wish to denounce a system where control is exercised by precedent, and habit has ousted responsibility in the seat of authority. Apathy is the consequence, and not the cause, of the current doldrums in campus life. Student initiative is being smothered in a morass of archaic and out-moded administrative vehicles. Remedial action was overdue yesterday: today it is the sine qua non of continued student government.

The election of twelve new SEC representatives will not, in itself, solve the problem. But by insisting on candidates genuinely committed to the banner of reform, we can insure that action will be taken. Our problem is not unique. A few years ago Brazilian voters elected a hippopotamus to high public office in protest against the timidity of the official candidates. We feel confident that vitality can be restored to McGill life without recourse to such extremes and that 500 words to the wise will prove sufficient.

Letters To The Editor

Two Opposing Estimates Of Howard Green

Dear Madam:

In the November 2 issue of the McGill Daily, Philip Resnick suggested in a letter to the editor: the Hon. Howard C. Green is "a foolish man, blind, and amazingly dull."

First reflections made, I was truly indignant at the presumptuous manner of a first year Arts' student who took the liberty of insulting not only the Canadian Ambassador to the U.N., but also the Canadian people, which after all is responsible for the appointment of the Hon. Howard Green as Minister of External Affairs. Su-

Chairman Explains Function Of SCOPE

Dear Madam,

Every fall, it seems, when the SCOPE Committee program is initiated, there is general curiosity among McGill students regarding the nature and function of SCOPE. May I offer this year's version of the annual enlightenment.

As a glance at the handbook will confirm, SCOPE is an undergraduate committee whose aim is to bring before the McGill student body outstanding men and women in the fields of arts, literature, music and drama. This aim is realized in the form of concerts, speakers and exhibits at low, or free, admission. In the past, SCOPE has brought to McGill, among many others, such people as Robert Frost, Josh White and Brendan Behan.

This year we hope to continue in this tradition. Our first concert, this Wednesday, features a trio of singers who were members of the original casts of Carmen Jones and Porgy and Bess. In all, a series of five or six performances has been planned.

SCOPE is not, may I add, related in any way to that excellent literary magazine FORGE; although, like FORGE's, its capital letters form a word rather than an abbreviation.

This then, briefly, is SCOPE. We sincerely hope that McGill students will take advantage of our program.

Chairman, SCOPE Committee

ASUS Newspaper Complete Waste

Madam:

By the title Arts & Science News, one might expect something informative and pertaining to the faculty of Arts & Science. The recent edition of this "newspaper", number 1 of this year and of the co-editorship of Paskal-Sankoff, was most insultingly neither.

I say insultingly because any paper being printed under the auspices of the largest undergraduate society in one of Canada's leading universities, is expected to meet a standard which is much higher than that of the past issue. Anything so far below this standard is an insult to its readers.

Every student registered in Arts or Science pays $1.00 to the ASUS, and I for one resent any portions of this being spent on four pages of senseless, meaningless, unhumorous garbage.

Stephen J. Roth,
B.A. 3

Madam:

I am in complete agreement with Mr. Resnick's opinion of Mr. Green and the present federal government. For the most part, Canadian politicians are colourless, bland, they lack spirit and impetus, and as such, command little or no respect.

It has been said, that the best description is a contrast. And for this case, I choose the American presidential advisors. To my knowledge, they represent the ultimate in quick thinking, college-bred, intelligentsia. The colour, spirit, and dexterity with which they mould American policies have yet to be equalled in this generation.

After admiring political and economic advisors of such a calibre, how can we have any respect for such ministers as Mr. Green, or for the P.C. government as a whole?

It has been said that Mr. Diefenbaker would do well to return to his turnip garden in Prince Albert; I would recommend that Mr. Green do the same. The country would then be salvaged from mass decay by a bland and lifeless government.

Council Decision Upheld By McMaster Students

A student assembly at McMaster University rejected a recommendation to the Students' Council to recognize CUCND as a McMaster standing organization.

The open meeting, held last week, supported the Council's decision taken two weeks previous which denied official recognition to the group.

Both decisions were close: the assembly rejected the proposal by 101 to 93, while the council itself was deadlocked until the President, Ken Kernaghan, cast the deciding vote.

The decision was taken even though no one could be found in the assembly to speak against recognition.

SPEECHES

Five minute speeches were given by John Steele, provisional President of CUCND on its behalf, and Ken Kernaghan on behalf of Council. A motion was then advanced by the President of the Progressive Conservative Club that the assembly recommend that the Students' Council reverse its previous decision.

After the motion was presented, the Chairman asked for a speaker against the motion, and when none could be found, it was put to a vote.

After the assembly, Kernaghan commented, "Students' Council is happy that the McMaster student body has chosen to vindicate Council's decision to withhold official recognition of a McMaster branch of CUCND, and has shown its confidence in the Council in this decisive matter."

NO OPPOSITION

He felt that the lack of speeches in opposition to the motion was due to the orderly nature of the meeting. "Following the two key speeches," he said, "all the aspects of the topic had been covered."

Steele disagreed: "Since this assembly was arranged to throw light on the reasons for Student's Council's actions and opposition to CUCND, I can only say that it did not succeed in its purpose."

"The reason can only be that there is no rational opposition to CUCND being a member of the Student Union," he continued. "The dissenting voters obviously place no value on one of our democratic foundations, that is the right for all opposition to be expressed freely and without restriction."

SECOND HALF BETTER

The Redmen touchdown punch showed up better in the second half. They hit the scoreboard at 7:40 when Willie Lambert took a 7 yard toss from Skypeck. Hauk-kala's convert was blocked.

The score was set up by Eric Walter's 32 yard reception on the Mustang 13 and Don Taylor's snag of a low Skypeck at the Mustang 7.

It didn't take Western long to get right back into the ball game. Starting from their own 23, the Mustangs went 87 yards in two plays to notch their first and only major of the afternoon.

Larry Oulette smashed out 4 yards up the middle from the 23. Then the explosion came. Whit Tucker, Western's lightning like halfback flanked out wide. He went straight down the field for 10 yards, cut into the centre, latched onto Rysdale's perfect pitch and was gone. The play, which came at 12:25 of the third quarter, covered 83 yards.

The Redmen closed out the day's scoring midway through the final quarter. This time it was Eric Walter going over for the touchdown.

The drive started on McGill's 30 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Walter took a 23 yard Skypeck pass on the side line and

He went straight down the field for 10 yards, cut into the centre, latched onto Rysdale's perfect pitch and was gone. The play, which came at 12:25 of the third quarter, covered 83 yards.

The Redmen closed out the day's scoring midway through the final quarter. This time it was Eric Walter going over for the touchdown.

The drive started on McGill's 30 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Walter took a 23 yard Skypeck pass on the side line and

Perlzweig To Discuss Jewish Life Of Today

Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, head of the International Affairs Department of the World Jewish Congress and its permanent representative at the U.N., will speak today at Hillel House at 1 pm. He will lead a discussion on "The Agenda of Jewish Life Today."

Dr. Perlzweig is one of the founders of the World Jewish Congress and has been a member of its World Executive since its foundation in 1936. He has conferred with the heads of government and leaders of Jewish communities in all the six continents and has circled the globe three times.

Regarded as one of the most distinguished Jewish diplomats of our time, Dr. Perlzweig won great admiration on the international political scene for his valuable contribution to the cause of international amity.

Rugger Redmen Defeated By OAC; Harrier Team 2nd Intermediates Over Barbarians, 17-0 At St. Johns Meet

by TED TENNANT

Both the McGill rugby squads went into action last Saturday but only the Intermediates succeeded in enhancing their record. In a Quebec City league game the second team beat the Barbarians 17-0; while the senior Redmen side lost 14-5 to Ontario Agricultural College in an Inter-Scholastic league match.

In the senior game, McGill came up against a very tough team who have won all their matches so far this season and although the Redmen held the O.A.C. men in the set scrums, the opposition proved to be very fast in the loose play. It was therefore with great surprise that McGill held their opponents to a 5-3 lead at half-time.

However, in the second half O.A.C. picked up momentum and the Ontario back division began to run circles round the McGill three-quarters. In this half the Guelphs scored two notable tries round the blind side as well as an easy penalty goal, leaving the final score at 14-5 for O.A.C.

In the other game, the Redmen Intermediates walloped the Montreal Barbarians 17-0. McGill's main scorers were Binks with three dropped goals, Herten-Graven, a try, and a conversion, and another try by Al Hill. This win gives the Intermediates a record of three wins and three defeats, placing them about half-way up in the league standings.

The Senior Rugby season ends next Saturday with the game against Queen's, and if the Redmen can beat the Gaels by a substantial margin they have a mathematical chance of regaining the championship from Toronto. The Intermediates end their season with a game against Town of Mount Royal at Molson's Stadium tomorrow evening.

The harrier team, weakened by the absence of second-counter Dave Wighton, lost by six points in an invitation meet at C.M.R. Saturday.

Francis Amis Athletic Club with second, fourth, ninth and tenth places were too good on this occasion for the McGill team, which placed third, sixth, seventh and fifteenth.

Sixty-two runners finished the four mile course with very fast times exhibited by the leaders. The ultimate winner was Bob Shirley, an Englishman competing for St. Lambert's.

ADAMS THIRD

Michel Doret of Francis Amis finished second, with Pete Adams of McGill finishing a close third. Charley Hudson showed considerable improvement on his Star Trophy performance in beating out Bob Walkiw for sixth spot. Gordon Mackay, the fourth counter for McGill, is also rapidly finding good form.

Wighton will be back with the team for the Intercollegiate Race in Toronto next weekend. When at full strength, the chances of the McGill team must be regarded as quite good.

Times for the top three finishers were: Shirley, 20 min. 11.2 sec.; Doret, 20 min. 17.8 sec.; Adams, 20 min. 23.2 sec.

Point total for the three leading teams saw Francis Amis holding low score with a total of 25 points, followed by McGill with 31, and R.M.C. a distant third with 75 points.

Soccermen Win Conference

Dean Fieldhouse and the spectators were treated to a fine exhibition of soccer as the Red and White team whitewashed a stubborn CMR squad, 6-0, at the latter's home field on Saturday. This final encounter of the soccer season left McGill atop the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference.

SLOW START

McGill ran into a strong defensive display by the CMR team during the first twenty minutes of play. The Red and White had several near misses before their initial score at the 20 minute mark. Clyde Mostert took a well placed free kick off Jeff Williams to open the scoring with a well-judged header.

The Redmen, weaving some beautiful pass patterns, were a joy to watch as their fine play gave every indication of a high-scoring game. Eric Vikander, moved from his regular defensive position to left wing, a continual weak link in the soccer team's offensive attack this year, made many well placed passes and dashes down the left wing, which opened up the game for the spate of goals that followed.

SCORERS

Heading the scoring column for the Redmen was Sebastian Zrgoric, who scored three goals, followed by Jeff Williams with two, and John Hardy, who had a lone counter.

CMR fought back gamely, but the Red and White defense held them scoreless as Capt. Bill Mowatt, with astute ball control, set up many of McGill's attacks. The CMR team was unfortunate in that they had to meet the Redmen in their finest played game of the season.

Needless to say, the soccer team had a very successful season. Hopes are high for another strong team next year, as most of this year's players will be returning.

The entire soccer team deserves a congratulatory word for the fine way in which they represented McGill in 1961. The Daily salutes a championship team.
